The Dubuque area has during its colorful history the suzerainty of five different flags. From the years 1833-1838, Dubuque was part of Michigan and Wisconsin Territories. In 1837 the Territorial government of Wisconsin passed a law authorizing the Village of Dubuque to be incorporated. The act creating the Territory of Iowa was signed by President Van Buren in June 1837 and took effect July 3, 1839. Iowa was admitted as the twenty-ninth state of the Union in 1846.

Names and dates in this book have been transcribed with care, though it is possible some here printed are not correct in every particular due to the inability to read the writing in the writing of the records. Some names may have been recorded twice.
